Identification and Early Intervention

What the setting provides

Newlands Nursery believe it is really important to identify children with special needs quickly so that they can make as much progress as they possibly can and reach their full potential.

We identify children with additional needs through:

Information gathered at registration and induction.

Observing the children in their play.

Learning Journals to track development.

Assessing stages of development, through termly reports and in particular 2-3 year check.

Provision maps that highlight areas children are on target with, slightly behind or struggling.

Key worker system that encourages close relationships with parents and children.

Our SEN Policy and the graduation response system.

The Open Door Policy where there is always someone available to help.

Encourage parents to look at and contribute to the children's learning journals.

Developing good links with other agencies such as the Firbank Childrens Centre, Portage, Speech and Language Therapy, the Inclusion Teacher, health visitors and the Educational Psychologists etc.

All staff attending regular training sessions and have all done Level 1 CAF.

Key-workers identify which children need support due to their observations, assessment or CAF and speak to nursery SENCO. Parents are informed of concerns and for minor concerns Targeted Learning Plans (TLP's) are put into place. TLP's identify which areas need help and what the nursery and parents can do to help the child improve.

If children fail to progress after a Targeted Learning Plan or ourselves and/or parents have major concerns a Request for guidance will be sent to the Inclusion Teacher for support, Parents are fully involved in this process throughout. Joint decisions will then be made between the parents, Key-worker, SENCO and any other professionals as required.

What the setting provides

Teaching and learning are at the utmost importance of everything we do at Newlands Nursery. The Early Years Foundation Stage curriculum is delivered through a balance of adult led and child initiated activities and is embedded throughout the 7 areas of continuous provision. We work very hard to provide a warm, nurturing learning environment for our children and all staff are trained or training towards at least a Level 3 in childcare.

The Early Years Foundation Stage is an inclusive framework and meeting the individual needs of all children lies at the heart of the EYFS. One of its stated aims is to provide for equality of opportunity for every child and states that "All children, irrespective of ethnicity, culture or religion, home language, family background, learning difficulties or disabilities, gender or ability should have the opportunity to experience a challenging and enjoyable programme of learning and development." (Statutory Framework 1.15)

In each area of learning and each stage of development, support materials such as Development Matters, Look Listen and Note, and Effective Practice, assist practitioners in promoting the learning of young children who may be developing more slowly or who may have individual patterns of development for whatever reason. By extending ways of working through additional or different approaches, and planning for smaller steps with longer periods of consolidation, young disabled children can experience a rich and challenging learning environment through the EYFS. Key-workers use these materials when planning activities for their key children ensuring that each child's needs are met continually.

The manager is also one of the nurseries SENCO (Special Educational Needs Co-ordinator). This ensures that she has a good working knowledge of all the children in the nursery and is always available to staff and parents for advice and support. Our PICO will ensure parents are fully involved.

The nursery environment is attractive, stimulating, inviting and fully accessible.

The areas of continuous provision are fully accessible, well-resourced and kept interesting through the use of enhancements.

Children's progress and development are monitored through use of the 2 year old check, baseline assessments, end of term assessments and through parent and key worker progress meetings.

Our planning for learning system ensures that activities are differentiated children according to their age and abilities.

We ensure that all our children's needs are met through Provision Mapping.

Once children are identified as having an additional need the SENCO draws up a Targeted Learning Plan (TLP) along with the child's key worker. This is reviewed every half term and new targets are set as and when necessary.

This process is supported by review meetings with parents every half term. These meetings enable us all to work together to make plans to help the children make progress.

We have close links with Firbank Childrens Centre and we encourage parents to access the courses and sessions on offer there. These can be found on our notice board or in a newsletter.

We encourage the children to express their views about their learning through the use of pictures or child questionnaires depending on their understanding and children's likes, dislikes and interests are recorded termly in their Learning Journeys.

The majority of our information regarding children's views comes from close observations of their play and interactions. Children's specific interests are used in our planning to develop their learning. Parents are also asked to contribute to their children's Learning Journeys through using our smile board for any mini-observation that they have noticed their child doing at home. Parents can also contribute photos and observations onto our online Learning Journey system. Parents can access these documents at any time at home by using a secure password. Parents can only see their own child/rens information which includes, photos, observations and assessments. Parents are also asked to comment on reports and assessments and are included in producing the initial Baseline assessment. This is all explained to parents on induction.

What the setting provides

At Newlands Nursery School we have a variety of resources to support children with special educational needs such as sensory lights, sound games, sensory balls and we are willing to purchase any resources the child's key-worker requests to help the development of their key-child. This is done through staff meetings and staff supervision times. Managers offer a termly budget for new resources or replacement of old resources, a list will be compiled and then purchased by one of the managers. The manager will also purchase equipment/resources/training for children receiving EYPP. Children in receipt of EYPP will each have a file stating what their EYPP money has been spent on such as resources according to their interests, or to develop and support them in any areas where they might be struggling.

Staffing is worked on a 4 weekly basis, we like to work at one member of staff over ratio per day. This allows us to cover for sickness and holidays without any major changes, allowing the children to feel more secure with familiar faces. On the odd occasion we need to bring in another member of staff we will use any part time staff in the first instance or tend to keep to a small number of supply staff.

We use staff meetings to identify vulnerable children and make plans for all of the children's learning in order to provide a consistent approach.

We pay particular attention to children's wellbeing and involvement, with key workers regularly monitoring their key-children's well-being and involvement on a weekly basis.

We often work with outside agencies such as Portage, Speech and Language Therapy, our Inclusion Teacher, and our Educational Psychologist. We can access support through the Firbank Childrens Centre and their linked services. We always strive to do the best we can for every family and child.

We do not have any specialised staff although as a nursery we have experience of dealing with children with complex and behavioural needs, hearing problems and children in the Autistic Spectrum. Staff have knowledge of basic baby sign and are willing to attend any training courses that are required to support any child's needs.

All Children are included on all trips and risk assessments are carried out before hand to highlight any potential hazards for the children and highlight how we can overcome and minimise those risks in order for all children to fully take part. Just as we differentiate for children in our planning so that all children regardless of age or ability can take part in the activities provided. We make reasonable adjustments where possible, focusing on solutions rather than problems. Parents are involved in reaching these solutions.

Parents are involved as partners in learning and are given ideas to help their children learn at home, through progress meetings, daily chats or through newsletters. Parents are also invited to spend a session at nursery with their child to observe their child at play and see how the nursery works. Also through our Open Door Policy we are available to help and listen to ideas and suggestions. We send a termly newsletter home, and parents are invited on any outings or to any events such as Christmas party, Nativity etc. We also occasionally provide talks for parents on aspects of the Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS)

Reviews

What the setting provide

Every child has a key worker at Nursery who acts as the first point of contact for parents regarding their children's progress. Key workers encourage parents to share any information or concerns that they may have when dropping their children off or collecting them. Home diaries used daily for the under 2's but can also be used for the over 2's upon request. Parents can speak to staff at any opportunity and there is always chance to talk at collecting and dropping off times and can ask for meetings to discuss their children's progress at any time with their child's key-worker or management.

The children's learning journals are stored in their own drawer so both children and parents can access them easily. These show their child's progress through the use of the progress trackers and observations. The nursery's provision maps and well-being and involvement charts also highlights individual child's targets and progression.

We believe that children learn best when they feel secure, so we place great importance on key workers forming good relationships with the parents and children in their care. Over time key workers develop sound knowledge about the children's abilities through observing and playing with them.

For children who have additional needs we host regular meetings and include support from other professionals.

When necessary we make use of the CAF form to support families.

We have access to an Inclusion Teacher to help with reviews.

Parents are encouraged to be actively involved in the nursery setting through events and our stay and play days. Newsletters and the notice board are used to keep parents informed of any events or information they may need.

Transitions

What the setting provides

Home to setting

Once children are booked into the nursery, we arrange settling in sessions for the children to attend 2 weeks before their start date. These sessions can last anywhere between 10 minutes and an hour. We do not charge for these sessions and children can attend as many as needed. Parents are asked to attend an induction meeting with one of the managers on one of their child's settling in sessions.

To help with the settling in process we ask parents to fill in an All About me informing us if their child likes, dislikes favourite things and routines. Key-workers will use this information to support the child upon settling.

Transfer to primary school

We either have organised informal visits to our local primary schools in the summer term for children who will be transferring to reception in the autumn term or teachers will visit the children in nursery and speak to their key-worker.

Transition reports are passed on to your child's chosen school during the summer term. These highlight the stages and ages of development of your child in each area and highlight strengths and interests. This information helps the reception children to gain an insight to your child before they start school and how best to support and interest them during the first few weeks of school.

For children with SEN, meetings with the school SENCO, reception teacher, nursery SENCO, key-worker and parents will generally take place to discuss how best to support the child once in school.

Other procedures include:

Targeted Learning Plans.

Role play area for children going to school.
